REVISION BILL TO SENATE WEDNESDAY

Senator McCumber Will Make Opening Assault on Democratic Measure

RATES ARE GREATLY REDUCED

Lengthy Free List—Rates Lowered on All Commodities—Ad Valorem Instead of Specific Rates—Schedules.

Washington, July 11.—Discussion of the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill with its lengthy free list, greatly reduced rates on all commodities, and its altered principle of ad valorem instead of specific rates, will actually begin in the Senate next Wednesday at noon. On Monday, however, the opening assault upon the Democratic measure will be made by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who gave notice he would speak on the agricultural schedule.

The Finance committee agreed that he should speak ahead of the formal opening because he is called away from Washington Monday night.

After the Finance committee had ordered the bill reported early today, minority members of the committee began to plan their reports. There probably will be two, one by Senators Penrose, Smoot, Lodge, McCumber, Gallinger and Clark, and a separate report by Senator LaFollette, who has had a corps of experts at work on the bill, and who will have amendments that will constitute practically an entirely new bill.

Senator Smoot has in preparation an entirely new wool schedule which he intends to submit as an amendment Wednesday. Chairman Simmons, of the Finance committee, will file the majority report Wednesday and will make the opening argument for the Democrats and the administration. During consideration of the measure Senator Simmons will have general charge of the debate for the Democrats, and Senator Penrose for the Republicans.

The bill as reported to the Senate contained comparatively few changes from that which was reported three weeks ago to the Democratic caucus by the Finance committee majority. Among these were a few changes in rates and the free listing of antimony ore, blankets costing less than 40 cents a pound, cast iron pipes of every description, raw furs, gunpowder, and a few other commodities.

An amendment made necessary because of changing the date from January 1st, 1913, to March 1, 1913, from which incomes shall be computed for the income tax for the first year, provides that the excise corporation tax of 1 per cent shall be collected for the months of January and February, 1913.

The cotton future stamp tax of one-tenth of a cent per pound is inserted in the bill as a special section, and upon this tax it is expected that the government will derive revenue, as its most sanguine supporters do not expect that the tax will entirely eliminate stock gambling in cotton futures.

In the Finance committee meeting there was an informal discussion over the length of time the bill will require in the Senate. When Chairman Simmons, speaking for the Democrats, said he thought the debate could be concluded in five weeks, Senator Smoot, of the minority, agreed with him, declaring that the Republicans had no intention of purposely prolonging the discussion.

As it goes to the Senate, the bill is a much lower rate bill than the House bill, by nearly 10 per cent, the Senate Finance committee majority and the caucus having greatly extended the already liberal free list and reduced many rates, notably in the metal, wool and agricultural schedules.

The Underwood bill passed the House May 8th, and for two months it has been under careful scrutiny by the Finance committee majority, which made many changes and finally by the caucus which deliberated on the measure for more than two weeks. Sweeping changes were made in the administrative features and the income tax. The base of exemption for incomes was changed from $4,000 to incomes over $3,000 for single persons, with $1,000 additional for married persons and $500 for each dependent child not to exceed two, a maximum exemption of $5,000. Sur-tax provision for increased rates of taxation on incomes of $20,000, $50,000 and $100,000 were retained, the normal tax being left at 1 per cent.

Features of the Underwood bill designed to grant a tariff discount of 5 per cent on imports in American ships, to compel examinations of books of foreign manufacturers when valuations are in dispute, to provide an extra duty on goods sold in this country at less than the foreign price and other reform features were stricken from the bill by the Senate Democrats.

Since the changes made by the Finance committee the caucus still further revised the bill, the principal changes being:

Cast iron pipe, transferred to the free list from 15 per cent ad valorem; automobiles, a minimum rate of 15 per cent established on cars calued at $1,000 or less; railway wheels, reduced from 25 to 15 per cent; textile machines reduced from 25 to 20 per cent, and agricultural implements put on the free list; extracts of meat, reduced from 15 to 10 cents per pound and fluid extracts of meats from 7 to 5 cents a pound; woolen and cotton stockings, valued at less than $1.20 a dozen, 30 per cent ad valorem, and more than $1.20, 5 per cent, the division in the House bill having been 70 cents instead of $1.20; combed wool reduced from 15 to 5 per cent; woolen yarns from 20 to 15 per cent; woolen blankets, valued at less than 40 cents a pound, transferred to free list from 25 per cent; silk yarns from 35 to 20 per cent; gunpowder and fulminating powders transferred to free list; raw furs, transferred to free list from 10 per cent.

Other important changes by the Senate caucus included fixing of special dates upon which some of the schedules should become operative:

Sugar, March 1, 1914; raw wool, December 1, 1913; woolen manufactures, January 1, 1914; income tax, to be computed from March 1 1913, instead of January 1, 1913, as the House had provided.

STATE GEOLOGICAL BOARD

Report of Geologist Shows Counties Voted Millions for Good Forests and Drainage.

Library of Congress

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—The State Geological Board, in semi-annual session here today, Governor Craig presiding, heard a report from State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt that showed remarkable progress in the work of the board.

In forest survey work, inventorying the timber resources of the State, the report shows all counties west of Alamance inventoried and three men at work in Alamance.

In road work the report shows for the six months past the representatives of the board have taken a hand in road bond elections that represent $2,600,000 of road bonds carried in various counties. Surveys have been made for the Madison and Henderson county sections of the Central Highway. The citizens of the latter section of road have raised $3,500 by private subscriptions and $1,500 by bonds for the seven miles of roads that the State is to provide convicts for. The money is also ready for meeting the conditions for convict road work for the Central highway in Madison county just as soon as the convicts can be supplied by the State. There is 15 miles of this road.

In the matter of engineering assistance for road work by counties the report shows assistance given in Alamance, Anson, Burke, Caswell, Chatham, Craven, Henderson, Harnett, Jackson, McDowell, Orange, Polk, Rockingham, Rutherford, Perquimans, Warren, Wilson, Washington, Wilkes and Madison.

The department has collected statistics of road building in North Carolina for 1912 that show very great increase in road construction during that year over any previous year. The data will be published very soon now.

In drainage the report shows 65 districts in the State, a gain of seven for the past six months. There are upwards of one million acres of land to be reclaimed or greatly improved by the completion of these drainage schemes.

Representatives of the department assisted the State Department of Agriculture in the inspection of lime deposits the past few months in Craven, Beaufort and Pender counties, with a view to the undertaking of the production of agricultural lime for the farmers at cost of production through convict labor.

The members of the State Board of Geological Survey are Hugh MacRae, Wilmington; Frank Hewett, Asheville; W. H. Williamson, Raleigh, and H. E. Fries, Winston-Salem, and Governor Kitchin, ex-officio. The board voted to continue the work for the next six months along the lines followed the past six months, the appropriations for the work having been made at the annual meeting six months ago.

SOLICITOR CRITICISED DAVIS.

Said Preacher Ought Not Hunt Blind Tigers in Alleyways.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—Not a little feeling has been stirred by the trial and conviction of Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the AntiSaloon League, on the charge of using a whiskey bottle as a weapon in a fight here some days ago.

It is expected that the court will set aside the verdict of guilty. A new trial may result. There is a report that one of the attorneys for the defense has received a letter from an unnamed person who says he saw the fight and that Mr. Davis did not strike Straughan, who at the time was engaged in a fight with Detective Green.

A notable feature of the trial was the criticisms of Mr. Davis by Solicitor H. E. Norris, for the prosecution. He characterized Mr. Davis as a minister who would forsake his high and noble calling and pursue duties derogatory to the ministerial office.

"We have officers of the law," he declared, "empowered to enforce the prohibition law and it is uncalled for that Rev. Mr. Davis should go out into the dark alleys for blind tigers and resort to questionable detective work."

Mr. Norris also insisted that the minister could not descend from his high avocation of the ministry to work such as he was doing, when he incurred the charges on which he was tried, and then seek to draw his ministerial robes about him as a protection from the law, if he had violated it.

MORALS OF A PARROT

Save Bird from Baneful Influences of Saloon

Alton, Ill., July 11.—Mrs. Geneva Littlepage has applied to Justice Gorman for a replevin writ to obtain possession of a parrot to save him from the baneful influences of a saloon.

"The bird never swore once in his life, and I can't bear the thought of his learning to curse," she told the justice.

Mrs. Littlepage said the parrot had been stolen and when she next heard of it the bird had been sold to a saloonkeeper for $10.

THE SMITH BILL.

Regulation of the Sale of Cotton Futures Favored.

Washington, July 11.—Members of the Senate agricultural committee having in charge consideration of the Smith bill to regulate the sale of cotton futures, today reported an agreement to make a favorable report on the measure to the Senate.

WANT TO HEAR MORE OF MULHALL STORY

Senate Inquires Further Into His Sensational Confession

THE JURISDICTIONAL CONFLICT

Clash as to Whether Senate Lobby Investigators or House Committee Should Conduct Inquiry—Subpoenas Issued.

Washington, July 11.—After an all-day effort to settle the question of whether the Senate lobby investigators or the new House committee should stage the inquiry into the confession of Colonel M. M. Mulhall, diplomatic negotiations were broken off tonight, and the Senate committee called Colonel Mulhall at a night session.

Senator Overman had announced earlier that no session would be held tonight, but the meeting was decided on after Chairman Garrett, of the House committee, had armed sergeant-at-arms with subpoenas, and had sent them scurrying about Washington, after Colonel Mulhall and J. H. McMichaels, who was charged by Mulhall with having acted as paid informant of the National Association of Manufacturers' lobbyists, while employed on the floor of the House.

This terminated a day of jurisdictional conflict. The Garrett committee had asked Senator Overman yesterday for copies at least of the Mulhall correspondence. The Senate committee voted not to surrender them. After the House committee met today, it recessed to allow Representatives Garrett, Russell and Nolan to go to the Senate committee and renew the ques for the "papers." This time they were officially refused.

Back to their side of the Capitol went the disappointed House investigators, and a strenuous executive session was held. Balked in the effort to secure the papers the committee decided to do the next best thing.

Although both Colonel Mulhall and McMichaels were under subpoena by the Senate committee, the House committee issued subpoenas for them forthwith, commanding their appearance at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning Sergeants-at-arms were at once dispatched to serve the summonses.

Within half an hour after the House committee had decided on this course, and Representative Garrett had issued a statement saying that Colonel Mulhall would be put on the stand at 9 o'clock in the morning, an extraordinary hour of meeting for legislative committees, in order that he might later testify before the Senate committee, Senator Overman announced his night session. He said that Colonel Mulhall was to be examined as to "preliminary matters."

Winthrop L. Marvin, secretary of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, today put into the Senate committee's record a synopsis of a statement showing the financial operations of the association.

He was questioned about a special $20,000 fund raised several years ago. He said he had no record of how that fund was collected or disbursed, but he was certain the money had been spent in printing and traveling expenses.

William Whitman, former president of the association, explained a $5,000 gift made to S. N. D. North, secretary of the association in 1897, and a clerk to majority members of the Senate Finance committee. The gift was made after the Dingley bill passed Congress.

Whitman said that many prominent wool manufacturers, and others not connected with the association, contributed to the fund.

Speaker Clark made a statement to the committee, relating to the use of his name by David Lamar and Edward Lauterbach. He testified he had never had anything to do with Lamar, Lauterbach, or any of the men mentioned by them.

"Ledyard says Lauterbach told him he was in communication with me through Senator Stone," said Mr. Clark, "Lauterbach, who acknowledged on the witness stand he had lied, said Lamar gave him the information. Lamar confessed the whole tale was a lie to force Morgan & Company to take Lauterbach into their employ. All of them disclaim any acquaintance or communication with me.

"Senator Stone justly and properly characterized the Lamar-Lauterbach tale as a lie, in which he was entirely correct. He and I never in our lives conversed about or in any way mentioned to each other Morgan & Company or the Steel Trust investigation.

"I never spoke to John Pierpont Morgan or any member of his firm in my life, never communicated with him or them in any manner whatsoever; never authorized anybody else to do so. I was, to my best knowledge and belief, never introduced, even casually, to him, or any of them. The best knowledge and belief I never saw any of them except Mr. Morgan himself, and that was at a banquet.

"I was several years ago introduced to Lauterbach here in Washington in the presence of several gentlemen, and passed the usual salutations with him. That was all.

"I had never heard of Lamar, and knew only by seeing his name in the papers that there is such a man as Louis Cass Ledyard."

Whitman was questioned about the $5,000 gift to North, an incident which attracted nation-wide attention when first disclosed several years ago. He put in a letter to North dated at Boston, September 22, 1897, signed by himself, George Sykes, Benjamin Phipps, James Phillips, Jr., and Rufus Greeley. It set out that at a meeting of a few members of the National Association "unanimous expression" developed in favor of presenting to North "some substantial testimonial in recognition of your past services to

IMPROVE LUMBER RIVER

But Money for Stream is Cut Down to $2,000—Postmaster at Mebane Removed—Murphy Candidate for Speaker.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 11.—General Bixby, chief of army engineers, today recommended the expenditure of $2,000 instead of $10,000, the latter being the amount asked for by the business interests, for the snagging of Lumber river. It is hoped that the river may be made navigable and afford competition with the railroads.

Because he has failed to furnish a satisfactory bond, the Postoffice Department today ordered the removal of Postmaster S. Arthur White, at Mebane. Major Stedman, Congressman from the Fifth District, has been asked to recommend a man for White's place and he will do so promptly. White's commission would not have expired until 1916.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne announced today that he had accepted the resignation of Walter Murphy, who, since his appointment as commissioner, has been his private secretary. R. W. Lassiter, of Oxford, a life-long friend of Osborne, has been named for the place made vacant by Murphy. Murphy resigned to go back to Salisbury and look after his law practice and also to line up his friends for the race for the Speakership of the House. Mr. Murphy is now an active candidate for the place.

John T. Oliver, a candidate for the postmastership at Reidsville, and W. C. Hammer, who wants to be district attorney for Western North Carolina, are here.

LAMAR INVESTIGATION.

Activities of Federal Grand Jury Suspended Until Monday.

New York, July 11.—Investigation of the Federal grand jury into the activity of David Lamar in the so-called Union Pacific conspiracy was adjourned tonight until Monday, after four more witnesses had been examined, until the United States statute which provides punishment for impersonating an officer or employee of the Government.

Aside from the inquiry by the Federal prosecutor, District Attorney Whitman has assigned an assistant to watch developments.

J. Sargent Cram, a member of the public service commission, George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank, and Margaret W. Kelly and Charles T. Eton were witnesses examined today. Lewis Cass Ledyard and Paul D. Cravath, both of who testified before the Senate lobby investigation committee, are expected to be called Monday. Mr. Ledyard's appearance will be his second before the jury as he testified yesterday as the first witness.

WALL STREET DULL.

Business Slowest Yesterday in Seventeen Years.

New York, July 11.—Wall Street had the dullest day's business today in 17 years. Transactions in stocks on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to but a little over 60,000 shares, the smallest day's business for a full day session since 1896, when business was at a low ebb prior to the McKinley-Bryan Presidential campaign.

Measured by the great increase in Wall Street's facilities for speculation, it was the dullest day in a quarter of a century.

ROBBED OF GEMS.

Wealthy New York Widow Loses Jewelry Worth $32,000.

Paris, July 11.—Mrs. John F. Martin, of New York, was robbed last evening of jewelry valued at $32,000 at her hotel on the Place Vendome. She had left the jewels wrapped in a handkerchief on the table in her suite. When she went to her room to dress for dinner they were no longer there.

New York, July 11.—Mrs. John F. Martin is a wealthy widow, whose residence is at the Hotel Ansonia in this city. She sailed for Paris about ten days ago.

WOMAN BOASTS OF THROWING BOMB

Physician's Wife Scared Cotton Men and Burned Mansion.

SURRENDERED VOLUNTARILY

Tells Court That It Is a Warning of What Is to Follow—Police Raid Suffragette Headquarters at Manchester

Liverpool, England, July 11.—A dramatic confession of incendiarism was made by a well-known militant suffragette, Mrs. Edith Rigby, wife of a physician at Preston, to the magistrate sitting in the police court here today.

Mrs. Rigby declared it was she who last Tuesday burned the country residence at Rivington, near Norwich, Lancashire, of Sir William H. Lever, causing damage estimated at $100,000.

She further confessed to being the perpetrator of the outrage at the Liverpool Stock Exchange on July 5th, when a bomb exploded, but caused little damage.

Mrs. Rigby surrendered voluntarily to the police. When arraigned today she glotted in her achievements, saying she wanted Sir William H. Lever to consider whether his house was more valuable as a show place than as a beacon lighted for the king and the country to see women suffering an insupportable grievance. She told the magistrate:

"I lighted that beacon. I also placed the explosives in the Liverpool Cotton Exchange to show how easy it is to procure them and to place them in public buildings. I might just as easily have blown up the Nelson monument."

Mrs. Rigby, in the course of her speech to the magistrate, said:

"I chose the Liverpool Cotton Exchange because the cotton industry has been built up largely by women's labor. The merchants are willing to get power and wealth out of the labor of women while the women themselves are denied the vote and citizenship. This is the first knock at the door. Under the 'cat and mouse act' one of the greatest women in the land is being done to death. If the government is going to kill that woman this is a warning."

Mrs. Rigby was remanded for further hearing.

Suffrage Raided

Manchester, England, July 11.—The police raided the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union here today and seized everything they could find, but no arrests were made.

Since the disorganization of the militant society's offices in London most of the operations have been engineered from here. All the known militants have been under the strictest surveillance for some time in view of the visit of King George to this city on July 4th.

Redmond "Bomb" a Toy

Dublin, July 11.—A Dublin evening newspaper yesterday published a sensational story to the effect that a bomb containing a parcel of suffragette literature, addressed to "William M. Redmond, House of Commons," had exploded in the sorting department of the postoffice.

The alleged bomb explosion, according to the postal officials, was merely the detonation of a child's top in the post, and was not even reported to the police.

DEMAND ON MEXICO.

Want the Release of Five Americans and Cattle and Horses.

Washington, July 11.—Secretary Garrison today ordered Col. Edwin P. Brewer, of the 14th Cavalry at Fort McIntosh, Texas, to demand the release of five Americans together with 350 cattle and 50 horses held by Mexican revolutionists at Hidalgo, Mexico. Secretary Bryan requested the action.

The attention of the State Department was called to the imprisonment of Americans and the seizure of their property by Consul Garrett, at Nenvo Laredo, Mexico. When Consul Garrett demanded the release of his countrymen, the revolutionists told him they must await orders from Piedras Negras.

Washington, July 11.—Secretary Bryan has called upon Charles L. Montague, American consular agent at Cababea, to answer charges transmitted to the State Department through Senators Fall and Smith, of Arizona, of meddling with the political situation in Mexico. Montague's superior, Consul Simpich, also has been called upon to report on the case.

News dispatches have stated that Montague incurred the displeasure of the Mexican State officials of Cananea by refusing to cash drafts in his capacity as cashier of an American banking company.

BANKERS AT TOXAWAY

Fletcher, of Florida; W. S. Lee, of Charlotte, N. C., and T. Frank Watkins, of Anderson, S. C., featured the opening day. Owing to crowded conditions at Toxaway, many of the bankers were compelled to go to neighboring towns for the night. Columbia, S. C.; Charleston, S. C., and Hendersonville, N. C., are trying to secure the 1914 convention of the bankers.

A banquet was held tonight. Many of the bankers will come to Asheville tomorrow afternoon to hear Secretary of State Bryan speak.

ENDORSE CURRENCY BOARD

Plan for Government Controlled Federal Reserve Board to Administer Banking System is Approved by Committee.

Washington, July 11.—The administration plan for a government controlled Federal reserve board to administer the entire banking system, provided for in the Glass Currency bill, was endorsed today practically without amendment by the Democratic members of the House Banking and Currency committee. After some discussion, they agreed on the proposed salary of $10,000 a year for each member of the board.

The bill was amended, however, to provide that the four members of the board to be appointed by the President should be distributed geographically throughout the country, and to require that they should devote all of their time to their duties on the board.

Well saisfied with their work in conference during the last two days on the bill, the Democrats of the committee adjourned today until Monday.

The conference considered the terms on which State banks may become members of the regional reserve banks and the division of earnings. The provision limiting shareholders to an annual cumulative dividend of 5 per cent was approved.

It was agreed that all of the net earnings of the reserve banks, above the 5 per cent cumulative dividends to the stockholders, should be paid to the United States government, the 20 per cent surplus of each bank remaining the property of the government so as to put the stockholding banks at all times on an equal basis.

Report on the Bill

The Currency and Banking committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which has been in special session here for several days tonight telegraphed a four thousand-word report on the administration currency bill to San Francisco for the meeting there next Monday of the chamber's board of directors. The committee approved the essential phases of the bill, but to "improve and strengthen it" recommended that the Federal reserve board, which would control the system of reserve banks provided for in the bill, be increased from seven to nine, the original seven chosing the additional members; that the board itself elect a governor and vice governor, and that the directors of the Federal reserve banks be empowered to elect a Fedral advisory council to sit in conference at stated intervals with the board.

That reserve banks be at least equal to private banking establishments was urged in the report as essential.

The committee also urged that the limitation of $500,000,000 on issues of Federal reserve notes was unnecessary and undesirable and that the assumption of an obligation by the government to redeem the reserve notes was unnecessary and "might in critical times seriously embarrass the treasury."

COHALAN EXONERATED

Supreme Court Justice Was Charged With Misconduct

Albany, N. Y., July 11.—Supreme Justice Daniel F. Cohalan was exonerated tonight from the charges of misconduct preferred by the grievance committee of the Bar Association of New York. This was the culmination of a four days' trial before the Senate and Assembly Judiciary committees. The findings were reached by a practically unanimous vote. The charges were based on alleged dealings between Justice Cohalan and John A. Connolly, former president of the Victor Heating Company, of New York. They embodied alleged payments by Connolly to Cohalan for political influence in procuring New York city contracts for the Victor comapny, the giving of a $4,000 not to Cohalan in consideration of a promise to obtain for Connolly a political position and the concealing, alteration and mutilation of legal records involved in these transactions.

The accused justice was called as witness by the Bar Association's attorney. No witnesses were called by the defense.

Justice Cohalan's testimony embodied a sweeping denial of wrongdoing in connection with all charges. He admitted he had "made the mistake of his life" when he submitted to what he denounced as "blackmail" by Connolly, pleading that his only motive was to prevent a scandal on the eve of an election. At the time of the transactions in question Cohalan was sachem of Tammany Hall, and held confidential relations with Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader.

PEACE IN SIGHT FOR BALKAN STATES

Settlement of Conditions for Peace Will Prove a Long Task

NEW ELEMENTS COMPLICATING

No Formal Armistice Has Yet Been Arranged But Hostilities Are Believed to be Virtually at an End.

London, July 11.—Having failed in her hazardous coup, Bulgaria is now showing herself anxious for peace. No formal armistice has yet been arranged, but it is believed hostilities are virtually ended. It is feared, however, that the settlement of peace conditions will prove a long task, many new elements having entered to complicate matters.

Bulgaria's decision not to oppose Rumania's occupation of Silistria, and the strip of territory she desires, removed one difficulty. But other developments such as the Greek occupation of Kavala, to which Bulgaria is expected to offer bitter resistance, are calculated to lead to troublesome negotiations, especially as both Servia and Greece on the ouecome of their campaign will be certain to demand possession of the territory they occupied previous to the war.

Russia is already taking steps in the Balkan capitals to arrange for a cessation of hostilities.

The British chancellor of the exchequer, David Lloyd George, addressing the bankers at a dinner at the Mansion House tonight, referred to Balkan affairs. He said the first trouble was over and he was hopeful that the powers, which had started so well together, would be able to effect a lasting settlement among these hapless provinces.

As long as the Balkan States did nothing to upset the decisions already agreed to among the powers, continued the chancellor, it was to be hoped that no power would find it necessary to take any action likely to give rise to difficulty among the great powers themselves.

Late Reports

Bucharest, Rumania, July 11.—Rumanian troops today occupied the Bulgarian city of Cilistria, on the right bank of the Danube. They were not opposed by the Bulgarians.

Greeks Occupy Demir Hirssar

London, July 11.—Greek troops today occupied Demir Hirssar, 13 miles northwest of Seres, after a brilliant victory over Bulgarians who had been in possession since they won it from the Turks in the recent war, according to an exchange telegraph company's dispatch from Athens. The Bulgarians fled, abandoning their field guns, ammunition and provisions.

Campaign Concluded

Belgrade, July 11.—The Servian and Greek campaign against the Bulgarian on Macedonia is regarded by the Servian military authorities as concluded since the defeat of the Bulgarians in the recent fighting. The Servian troops joined hands this morning with the Greek forces which had just taken Strumitza.

WILL TILLEY ACQUITTED.

Alleged Horse Thief Released in Wake County Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—A jury in the Wake Superior Court has returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Will Tilley, of Durham county, charged with stealing a horse in Wake Forest four years ago. The evidence failed to satisfy the jury that the defendant was the man who stole the horse. The animal was never recovered.

It is a source of much regret that J. L. Seawell, clerk of the Supreme Court, has fallen quite ill again while seeking health in the mountains of Western Carolina and has been carried to Asheville to have the care of a trained nurse.

The city council has awarded to the Jacobs, Gibble Co., of Durham, the contract for the erection of the concrete settling basin for the water plant at a cost of $5,000. The commission designated Willard L. Dowell and Chas. A. Seaparks to make up the tax books, their compensation to be $700. Dowell was defeated for Commissioner of Public Safety by Commissioner King after the bitterest sort of a campaign.

SLEPT WITH SNAKE.

Head on Pillow That Covered Rattler. Man Sober.

Moultrie, Ga., July 10.—When Mrs. W. W. Owens, of Coolidge, went in her husband's bedroom one morning recently to make up the beds she shook from the top sheet a rattlesnake that had from all appearances spent the night in the bed and right under the pillow on which Mr. Owens rested his head. It was an experience that caused the blood to "run cold" in the veins of Mr. and Mrs. Owens when they discovered how near they had been to death. They are not able to explain how the snake could have gotten into the bed, unless it was carried in with the bed when it was taken in the room after being sunned.

HOW GREAT MEN PLAY THE GAME -:- By Scar

GIANTS COME BACK STRONG

Won from Chicago Cubs Fourteen to Four—Phillies Make It Four Straight Defeats—Reds and Cardinals Winners

Their leader, the fighting Johnny Evers, benched for disputing a decision of the umpire in yesterday's game, the Chicago Cubs went to pieces with the advantage of a four-run lead at the beginning of the fourth inning, and the New York Giants batted out a 14 to 4 victory, scoring in six of their nine innings. The locals hit Lavender, Pierce and Ritchie for a total of 22 hits, drew seven passes, and 32 Giants reached the initial station during the game.

The Pittsburgh Pirates made a clean sweep of the series of four games with the demoralized Phillies by taking the final contest yesterday afternoon, score seven to two. The result was never in doubt, the Pirates piling up a four-run lead in the opening frame.

"Rube" Benton came back again yesterday and pitched shut-out ball for the Cincinnati Reds up to the 8th inning when three hits were used by the Brooklyns to tuck away as many runs. Yingling was batted out of the box in the fourth inning, replaced by Stack.

The St. Louis Cardinals put across another win from the Boston Braves, who seem unable to stand the pace of game-winning long at a time. Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis team, was hit on the head by a ball in the sixth inning and rendered unconscious, and will probably be out of the game for some days.

Johnny Evers Benched

New York, July 11.—New York overwhelmed Chicago today 14 to 4. The locals hit Lavender, Pierce and Ritchie for 22 hits and drew seven passes. Thirty-two New Yorkers reached first base. Chicago started with a four-run lead but soon fell to pieces after Manager Evers was benched in the third for disputing a decision.

In the sixth inning Miller Huggins, manager for St. Louis team, was knocked out when hit on the head by a ball thrown by Tyler. He quickly revived but left the game. A doctor advised rest but Huggins insisted upon going to Philadelphia with his team tonight.

Formerly a resident of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. De Garmo came here to live with Mr. and Mrs. Homer a few months ago.

WITH THE MOVIES

The Grand has arranged a glorious Saturday's bill with which to greet and delight its hundreds of devotees today. The solid comforts, for which the theatre is justly famed, will hold forth, and the price of admission will remain a fixture at 5 cents, afternoon or night. A film of great human interest, the Vitagraph's "Tricks of the Trade," heads today's big and wonderful show. The flash and crash of war will be revealed in Kalem's "The Wartime Siren," which is a story of the War Between the States. Selig will also contribute a powerful dramatic today in "The Girl and the Judge." It is a story of modern life, with a big moral. It is a woman's wrongs, which later are righted in a most dramatic way.

The Bijou's Week-end

The Bijou, that peculiarly popular joy spot, is ready to end a big week in whirlwind manner today. It will present a week-end bill that will be a rouser and that should not be missed. Scores of electric fans keep the theatre delightfully cool and a perfect ventilation system keeps it healthful. The price of admission is always 5 cents. The Vitagraph's latest star is one of today's leaders and is "The Heart of Mrs. Robins," which is a beautiful dramatic. "The Star" is a big comedy production of stage life. It is something new and novel and deals with the fascinating theme of the footlights. It should be laughed at by all Wilmington amusement-goers. Another swell film for today is "The Portrait," telling a tale of artist life in France. It is also a big novelty.

BLUE RIDGE HIGHWAY.

State Board of Geological Survey Asks Federal Aid.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—The State Board of Geological Survey adopted resolutions urging that the United States forest Service construct the link of the Crest of the Blue Ridge Highway, which crosses the government reserve in this State.

Another resolution urges that since many counties and townships have voted during the past four months bond issues for road building to the extent of two and a half million dollars, with other bond issues pending, and 40 of these counties and townships have asked for engineering assistance from the Geological Survey, the approaching session of the Legislature to take up as an immediate and vital necessity, the question of adequate appropriation for State aid in this matter.

Took Yesterday's Final From the Naps—Senators Won With Boehling—Yanks Won Second. Browns Also Winners.

The Athletics after their defeat of Thursday, came back strong in yesterday's game and defeated the Cleveland Naps, making it two out of three for the series. Big Chief Bender held the Naps hitless until the seventh, when four hits put across as many runs. Kahler, for the Naps, was driven from the mound in the sixth.

Boehling won his ninth consecutive game for the Washington Senators yesterday, Detroit's errors aiding him in lengthening his long string of wins.

In a farcial game at Chicago, the New York Yankees slugged their way to a victory over the Chicago White Sox, their second consecutive win for the first time of the season. Cree made a home run in the sixth with the bases crowded, tallying four runs.

The St. Louis Browns easily won from the Boston Red Sox by a 5 to 1 score.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS.

Tentative Regulations for Government of International Contests.

New York, July 11.—Secretary Jas. E. Sullivan, of the Amateur Athletic Union, today received the tentative regulations governing international amateur athletics to be discussed in Berlin August 21st next, at a meeting of the proposed "International Amateur Athletic Federation." The communication is from J. S. Edstrom, of Sweden, president of the provisional committee appointed at Stockholm July 17th, 1912, to standardize and control the world's amateur athletic events.

The functions of the international federation will be restricted to three activities, namely:

"To draw up and agree to rules and regulations for international competitions in athletics.

"To register world's Olympic and National records.

THE FIELDING RECORDS

Leaders in Double Plays as Basis of Fielder's Speed

Fans are not in the habit of ruining their eyesight in studying the fielding records of the major league players, and there are few members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America who build up feature stories regarding the defensive work of the pastimers. Eddie Collins, guardian for the White Elephants of the middle cushion, is acknowledged by all experts to be the keystone king of the American League, but when any authority sets out to prove that the Columbia graduate is the peer of his contempararies he never rushes to the guide books for statistical information on the subject.

A good way to find out how swift a fielder is, some persons think, is to take the number of double plays a man starts. Up to July 1st the American Leaguers had rid their systems of 380 dual killings, the man who started most of them being Collins. He took the initiative in 16 of his team's two-ply massacrees.

The Johnsonites' swiftest shortstop, according to the performances in the double play league, is Ray Chapman, of the Naps. He inaugurated a dozen plays that resulted in the retirement of a pair of runners. In figuring Chapman's speed as an inaugurator of double plays, it should be remembered that he has been often absent from the Naps' line-up because of injuries and it is possible that had he played all season long, as has Collins, he would now have started just as many two-ply killings.

The third basemen who have started the greatest number of double plays are Frank Baker, of the White Elephants, and Irvin Olson, of the Naps. Each man has inaugurated six. George Stovall, of the Browns, shows the way to the first-sackers, having been the pioneer in seven dual massacres.

In the battery department there is a tie for the honors, Catchers Schalk, of the White Sox, and Agnew, of the Brown Hose, each having started four. So have Pitchers Eddie Cicotte, of Chicago, and Walter Johnson, of Washington.

Tris Speaker, of Boston, who won the Chalmers American League trophy in 1912, and Ty Cobb, of Detroit, who secured the car the two previous seasons, generally are considered the two smartest outfielders in the junior league, but thus far this season neither man has made nearly the number of double plays that Bert Shotten, of the Browns, has to his credit. Shotten has taken the initiative in eight two-ply killings, which would indicate that he has been making just as many sensational catches as the high-priced fly-chasers, of the Detroit and Boston clubs. Bert started two double plays in the game of June 10th, Duffy Lewis, leftfielder of the Red Sox, having earlier in the campaign done the same thing. J. Gladstone Graney, of the Naps, is the lone American League outfielder to pull off an unassisted double play, he having accomplished this feat on June 1st.

The Browns just at present are leading in manufacturing double plays, with the Washingtons a close second and the world's champion Red Sox last.

RALEIGH DOINGS OF A DAY

Wake County Planning a County Home That Will Be a Model in All Respects—Pardons Issued for Two

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—The plans for the proposed new county home to be located two miles from the city, are in the hands of the county commissioners. The farm is to embrace 600 acres and the building is to be absolutely fireproof, of brick and concrete, two stories high.

It will be so built as to be made sanitary by boiling water. The capacity of the structure is to be sufficient to take care of 100 people. There will be accommodations set apart for people with tuberculosis. Public sentiment is very strong for a modern county home, combining all the comforts and conveniences needed.

After lying in jail since January, convicted of larceny and ordered sent to the training school at Concord, where no room was made for him, James Riddle, a 15-year-old Cumberland county boy was pardoned today by Governor Craig. Daniel Yates, of Watauga county, convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to seven years in the State's prison, was also pardoned today, on recommendation of the trial judge and other persons.

"Klondike Bill," as William Brown is generally known, was acquitted in Superior Court of the charge of holding up several men in White Oak township. Some boys blew up his tent with dynamite and he ran afoul of the charge against him while seeking reprisals. His numerous dogs, which he said had drawn him hither from the frozen North, had dwindled down to a pair.

Rev. Dr. A. Clarence Dixon has gone to Mount Airy where 35 years ago he organized the Baptist congregation there. It was in the early days of his ministry, which has grown until he touches the life of the metropolitan population of London, being pastor of Spurgeon's great tabernacle. On his visit to his native State he was drawn irresistably back to the beginning of his ministry in the little mountain town. After spending several days there he will go to his home county of Cleveland, where his kinspeople live. While here he was the guest of his sister, Dr. Dixon-Carroll.

The water situation here is growing better gradually. It is better than at any time since the water became so muddy sometime ago, and there is abundance for all purposes save that of drinking, and the city physician, Dr. John S. McKee, has advised that it be not used without boiling.

The State Association of Osteopaths meets here tomorrow for the annual convention. The meetings will be held at the Yarborough Hotel and will extend through Saturday night. The board of examiners has been at work examining a number of applicants for license to practice.

An annex is being added to the west side of the hospital at the A. & M. College. Four rooms will be equipped.

C. R. King, of the engineering corps at the Agricultural Department, was operated on Thursday at Rex Hospital, and is expected to speedily recover.

Vaccination for the avoidance of the disease of typhoid fever, is the experiment that will go into form in North Carolina within the coming few weeks, and in accordance with the special appropriation of $3,000 for the manufacture of the typhoid vaccine, the State laboratory of Hygiene will distribute the vaccine over the State at actual cost.

The last General Assembly made provision for the manufacture of this vaccine which can be inserted into the arm as in instances of smallpox, but the severity of the after effects is not to be compared with the smallpox insertion. The insertion causes only a slight soreness as after effects, and the danger is not so threatening as in the case of smallpox vaccine.

North Carolina is the first Southern State to make application of the vaccine for typhoid fever, which has proved of worth to a number of Northern States, where practical use has been made in the reduction of the death rate as victims of typhoid.

North Carolina heads the list of States for its remarkable large death rate from the disease. The statistics show that in 1911 the rate of death in the State from typhoid was 66 per hundred thousand for whites, and 79 colored.

HOOKWORM CAMPAIGN

Nearly Quarter Million People Examined—Scope of Work

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—The report for the quarter ending June 30th, 1913, of the campaign against hookworm disease in North Carolina shows splendid progress. Up to this time 85 counties have provided for the free dispensaries for the examination and treatment of the hookworm disease. Eighty-one counties have had what is known as sanitary surveys made, which are based on the sanitary conditions found at the homes of people in the rural districts. Seventy-two counties have had infection surveys made, which are intended to determine the degree to which hookworm infection exists.

During the past three months 24,906 persons have been microscopically examined and 6,258 persons treated. This gives a total by including the work previously reported of 242,000 persons examined and 132,000 persons treated. In other words up to this time every ninth person of the State has been microscopically examined and every seventeenth person treated.

The work is progressing in Rockingham, Davie, Cabarrus, Caswell and Transylvania counties. The following counties have made the appropriation this month to have hookworm campaign conducted: Durham, Alamance, Stanly, Rowan and Jackson counties.

Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, who has been State director of the hookworm campaign in North Carolina since its beginning has been promoted so that he will take charge of the work in the South with headquarters at Washington, D. C. Dr. C. L. Prigen, the senior member of the field staff of physicians, has succeeded him as State director for North Carolina. Announcement of Dr. Pridgen's successor will be made at an early date.

STATE'S TRUST CO. TRIAL

Secretary C. H. Bowlds Arraigned Yesterday in Bank Case

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—Judge Cook, in Wake Superior Court this afternoon took up the trial of C. H. Bowlds, of Wilmington, secretary and treasurer of the defunct State's Trust Co., on the charge of false reports to the Corporation Commission as to banking operations in opening the Bank of Macclesfield, the Bank of Angier, and others closed by the Commission.

The jury was empanelled and recess taken to Saturday morning. However, in executive session, Judge Cook heard lengthy argument by counsel on several legal phase of the case. Kitchin & Manning are defending Bowlds, and Franklin McNeill is assisting Solicitor Norris in the prosecution as special counsel for the Corporation Commission.

C. C. DANIELS FOR CONGRESS.

Wilson Agog With Political Interest These Hot Summer Days.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., July 11.—Wilson is all agog with political interest. Hon. C. C. Daniels, brother of the present Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, is being persistently mentioned as a candidate for Congress to succeed Congressman Claude Kitchin. It is some time before the opening of the campaign, but these Summer days with the general quietude on business gives Wilsonians an opportunity of political discusson. Mr. Daniels is non-committal, but it is generally understood that he would accept the opportunity of making the race if sufficiently urged.

Then Attorney W. A. Lucas, at present Wilson's city attorney and one of the leading lawyers of the district, is a candidate for appointment as assistant district attorney and consequently Wilsonions are watching the wires from Washington. The appointment of a district attorney outside of the district would give better opportunity to hope for the success of Mr. Lucas.

In addition to all of this there is the opening of the contest for the Wilson postoffice—so there is plenty of political gossip these days.

D. & S. TO MOUNT OLIVE.

No Longer Any Doubt About Extension of Railroad From Dunn.

Mount Olive, N. C., July 11.—There seems to be no longer any doubt in the minds of well informed people about the coming of the Durham & Southern Railroad to this place; and it is believed that the road will be pushed on to a point on the coast, Swansboro or Buford. The idea that the road will come by Clinton from Dunn, prevails. It had been thought that it might come via Newton Grove.

Surveyors for the road have twice been over two different routes from Dunn to this place, one direct between the two towns and the other from Dunn to Clinton, thence to Mount Olive, and at first it was generally supposed that the road would be built on the direct route. News from Clinton says that the railroad company has taken up all the options it held on property for station site and tracks, and a representative of the company has been here, taking up options between Clinton and this place for the right-of-way.

It is not known when construction work will begin, but it will probably not be a great while before it starts.

CURFEW MUST RING NIGHTLY.

Spencer Youths Must be Off Street by Nine O'clock.

Spencer, N. C., July 11.—Every youth under 16 years old must be off the streets by 9 o'clock, according to the new curfew law enacted here, and the chief of police announces that no sort of plea for any young "Basils" will keep the bell from tolling the knell of parting day at the stipulated hour. He declares that he will enforce the law to the letter and youngsters arrested must either have a written permit from their parents or go to court. A bell is to be placed in a tower and the officers will ring out the warning to the boys.

PREVATT CASE TO JURY.

Argument Will Close Today—Many Lengthy Speeches Made.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., July 11.—In the Prevatt trial which has been going on here since Tuesday morning, seven speeches were made today and two tonight, leaving two to be made tomorrow, Solicitor Sinclair closing the argument for the State. The solicitor stated tonight that the case would go to the jury about noon tomorrow. On account of the length of some of the speeches more time was consumed than it was first expected.

Wilmington's skyline continues to be decorated with new buildings.

A girl's idea is that when a sissy fellow is dead in love he gives a good imitation of a dying calf.

The woman who has nothing to wear should cheer up. Others are wearing as near nothing as possible.

What has become of the old fashioned editor who displayed his enterprise by nailing an item "just as we go to press?"

Some men's idea of a logical conclusion is that Milwaukee would be a dandy Summer resort without any kick coming on any score.

A chamber of commerce cannot be any more forward-looking and aggressive than the men of its town. A live town is made so by live wires.

A county which can grow from 50 to 100 bushels of corn to the acre needn't have to buy a bushel of corn grown from 600 to 1,500 miles away.

It is announced that "corn is king". Probably that is the reason the Old Nick Williams kind that is twenty years old continues to suit the queen's taste.

It is just as useless to kick against the lid as it is to kick against the steel teeth of an old fashioned harrow, such as they continue to use in Virginia.

The suits men wear in the South are made in the North. They are too heavy for the South. Why not manufacture clothing in the South best suited to the South?

David Lamar's own personally written story of how he played the "Wolf of Wall Street" and got the dough for his chicanery, may soon appear as a serial story in the yellow journals.

Col. Roosevelt's idea is to hit a fellow to keep him from getting there with the goods. He has been handing out a few slaps at President Wilson, but he can't touch him with a ten-foot pole.

Seventy-six brands of grape juice have been sent to Secretary Bryan to sample. There is no longer any doubt that some men are so lucky that if you throw mud at them they can pick it up and find diamonds in it.

If President Wilson were to notify Congress that he was quite sure that a glascutus is running loose around Washington nobody would be rash enough to deny it without first exhausting every means to discover the animal.

Dave Lamar, in his incriminating testimony before the Senate Committee, declared that when a man enters business in Wall Street and puts his shoulder to the plow, "honor goes out of the window." That confirms everybody's suspicions.

Don't wait till you are old to make your will. Some lawyer may waive it in court and declare it to be the childish product of an irresponsible old gentleman in his second childhood and incapable of making a will. The court may agree with him.

When a drummer knocks trade in a town where he is trying to take order it's a sign that some other drummer beat him to the orders. A knocker. The traveling salesman with his pockets bulging with orders is always as pleasant as a basket of chips in displaying his astonishment at how business keep up.

CANADIANS FOR THE SOUTH.

While land companies and railroads in northwest Canada are endeavoring to induce Southerners to emigrate to Canada, it is not a bad idea to go after such desirable settlers as Canada can furnish to the South if they can be induced to come here. Whether the Canada colonizers succeed in coaxing Southerners to go to the Northwest Territory or not, we can give them tit for tat by invading Canada for a good class of people who are sure to be impressed with the opportunities in the South. It seems that the people of the enterprising city of Jacksonville have started something to meet Canada's emigration movement with a Florida immigration movement. Referring to it the Manufacturers' Record says:

"Some months ago representation of the real estate interests of a Canadian railway system was established in the Southeastern States, with a view to inducing Southerners to invest in lands in the territory of the railroad. At the time the Manufacaurers' Record, while commending the enterprise of a Canadian railway and suggesting that Southern railroads might adapt its policity to the attraction of Canadians to the South, pointed out the superior advantages of the South for investors in farm lands. Something of the idea in the suggestion is now contemplated by the real estate exchange of Jacksonville in connection with the attendance by a delegation of its members upon a realty dealers' convention this month at Winnipeg. The delegation will visit Cincinnati, Chicago, Mnneapolis, and St. Paul on the route to Winnipeg, and its members planned to do much publicity work for Jacksonville and Florida."

Nobody can blame either the Canadian railways or the land companies of the Dominion. We rather admire their enterprise, and certainly we commend their methods. They are operating on plans of the most definite and business-like character, and are not only making attractive propositions but are making bona fide offers. They are not merely inviting settlers, but they are coming after them. The worst of it is, they are coming after the best, for it is the vigorous, venturesome, enterprising young men who, perhaps, have had their first offer of an oportunity in life. It is always the young man who goes West or hies to Canada, and it leaves here the older citizens who are too far along in life to make a move.

Those Canadian people are both active and busy. They first invaded our border States in the Northwest or the upper Middle West. They carried off thousands of sturdy stock and millions of capital that we might have had coming South if we had organized with the view and purpose of landing them. Not content with coming after Northwesterners, the Canadians are now coming after Southerners. Instead of our getting on the aggressive years ago, we are forced now to get on the defensive.

We are now compelled to organize not only to go after Canadians, Northwesterners and Northerners, but in order to keep our own young men at home. The South is being invaded and there is going to be another exodus of young Southerners if we don't do something to keep them at home. We've got to do that by offering them the same opportunities that Canada is offering them. We will simply have to reverse our idea of attracting settlers. The Southern idea has been to hope for and invite newcomers so we can sell land to them. We have had no systematic plans. Canada has. We have not undertaken to induce settlers. Canada has. We have not tried to reach prospective home seekers or to educate them up to the desire of becoming homeseekers. Canada has.

The truth is we have kept busy discussing the immigration and settlement question in a merely academic way. For years we have discussed, considered, and reconsidered, and held conventions and congresses, and then adjourned. We have never arranged concrete and definite plans and gotten down to business. If we had, we would not be trying to buck Canada or her immigration scheme. We would have been getting settlers by the scores of thousands. Canada wouldn't be in it with us if we had adopted practical, definite plans to go after and get settlers.

There isn't any use for the South to try to discover some new way to attract settlers. The old way that has never been tried to any extent in the South is good enough. The old way, with initiative, with aggression, with purpose, and with the goods to offer, is exactly the method being used by Canada to turn the trick. Canada is working the old way to perfection, while we haven't tried any plan so's you'd notice it. The Star, years ago, often and recently, has declared that we could get settlers by getting them precisely the way Canada is getting them. The difference would be that where Canada could offer one inducement the South can offer ten.

Homeseekers from anywhere will come very slowly on the indefinite idea that they can buy farms if they should come. The average man who has a farm to sell wants cash and the average homeseeker who has it is few in number. Those who would buy homes or farms on good terms are many. They can be found everywhere—North, South, East and West. Hundreds of men could buy a farm on easy terms. But few can buy them with cash.

The truth is we can get thousands of settlers by organizing settlement companies or colony syndicates which can secure large tracts and settle them on reasonable terms. These companies or syndicates will have to make a business of it and mean business. It requires capital, co-operation, and publicity.

There is nothing new in this. It has been tried successfully right at Wilmington by the Southern Trucking & Development Company, with Mr. Hugh MacRae at its head. It has built a flourishing town at Chadbourn, near Wilmington, and converted the surrounding country for miles around into one of the most prosperous and progressive agricultural communities to be found in America. It is the Sunny South Colony, promoted by the Hon. J. A. Brown on definite plans. Those plans got settlers, and Mr. Brown got them by going after them with attractive propositions and good terms. It will turn the trick every time. Homeseekers want to settle in communities and colonies for social and other reasons, and if we were called upon to point out a model colony where wonderful development and universal satisfaction prevails we would say it can be found at Chadbourn. The trick can be turned precisely the way it was successfully turned by Senator Brown.

CAPITAL'S CHANCE

Wonder has often been expressed that the people of the South do not develop its wonderful resources. The truth is every dollar the South has is busy, and capital here is employed to the limit. Untouched resources are sadly neglected for lack of capital. Business needs more capital, industry needs more capital, agriculture needs more capital. Capital cannot be taken from one to develop other opportunities. There is hardly a business concern that does not need more capital to enlarge operations. It is so in every line. That is precisely the reason that industrial development is not greater in some communities.

This gives capital a great opportunity in the South. The opportunity for it is great and insistent. Right now capital is needed to develop the cattle and dairying business in the South. The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph says: "Cattle are being shipped out of Georgia. Beef is being shipped in." The Raleigh News and Observer adds: "The same way in North Carolina. It is time to make a change. The farmers should get at it, for it will pay."

The farmers can raise cattle, but we must provide them the market. We must establish slaughter and packing houses. If we have cattle to ship away it shows that there is a demand for meat packers here. We need not ship out cattle and ship beef in. The reason we have to do it is that we are not keeping our beef at home by having packing houses. Packing houses will save us all the freight both ways. We now pay the freight on beef to the Western packing houses and pay the freight on the beef returned.

We need capital to establish packing houses so we can quit shipping cattle out and shipping beef in. It is a matter of capital.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The most uncomplimentary thing that can be said for Wall Street is that the evidence such as given by Lauterbach and Lamar does not appear to surprise anybody. The popular assumption is that it is just the Wall Street way.—Greensboro News.

The government may be technically right in going after the men who were responsible for holding cotton off the market and boosting the prices still they are no worse than those who have the habit of depressing the market by precisely opposite measures.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Col. A. B. Andrews, first vice president of the Southern Railway, spent the forenoon in the city. Incidentally the stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad were in annual session. His presence reminds one of the old days when he was never seen in the meeting, but he was close by and was kept informed of what was going on by grape-vine telegraph. It is a pleasure to note that he appears to be in fine health and his years sit lightly on him. The work he has done in the past 35 years would have killed forty ordinary men.—Greensboro Record.

Once in a while some old law is revived and applied. New Jersey appears to be most fruitful of the States in bringing to potency almost forgotten classic statutes. But the woman who was sent to jail in Atlantic City, after twenty neighbors appeared against her on the charge of being a common scold was doubtless an uncommon one. The threat of the judge to further investigate the accusation against her, and if verified to banish her from the city, has terrors for the neighbors of Atlantic City. Who wants to have thrust upon them any sort of scold!—Columbia State.

It is estimated that something like 4,000 crates of corn were shipped from the Clinton market on Tuesday morning of this week. This is by far the biggest shipment of the year. The quality of the corn has greatly improved, and for this good corn the shippers are getting a better price. The past week the market came very near being demoralized, very probably on account of the poor quality of corn. A good quantity of pepper is now being shipped. A number of truckers planted an unusual amount of this truck this year. So far the price is holding up very well.—Sampson Democrat.

THE BURGAW MONUMENT.

To the Editor of The Star:

I was greatly mortified to see the publicity given the little misunderstanding between the Daughters of the Confederacy and the County Commissioners of Pender county in your issue of the 9th. This Chapter has worked hard for the last ten years to get the money for the monument and most assuredly they have the right to say where it should be located. The Commissioners were granted the power by the Legislature to subscribe an amount to help pay on this monument, which they have done, and they are both morally and legally bound to pay the amount. I suppose they, like everyone else, have a choice of location, but knowing them as I do, I feel that they have too much patriotism and gallantry to even question or suggest to the Chapter the particular spot where the monument shall be erected, so it is placed on the Court House square, which, I believe, was the condition under which the subscription was made.

As there is some difference of opinion among the members of the Chapter as to the location it would be eminently proper for them to vote on the location and abide by the decision of the majority and not allow any outside influences to interfere with their rights. God knows, we have had enough work to raise this money. Now let us have a peaceful rest.

LIMIT MOTHERHOOD

Advises Mrs. Cole, Lecturer, at Chautauqua Meeting

Racine, Wis., July 11.—Mrs. J. Redding Cole, of Racine, in an address at the Chautauqua today, protested against Colonel Roosevelt's race suicide theories.

"Where," she said, "are we to furnish food for 2,000,000 underfed children? It may be immoral to curb the birth rate, but where is the morality in furnishing more children for the sweatshops to toil and hunger for the things they can not obtain?

"We are sick of the argument of Colonel Roosevelt. Motherhood must be limited if the child is to be fed and reared as the American child should. If that be treason, make the best out of it."

CHORUS GIRL SUES

Injured While Joy-riding — Wants Thirty Thousand

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 10.—As the result of an injury during a joy-ride here several weeks ago which rendered her an invalid for life, Miss Christine Rattelle, a chorus girl, has filed suit against C. V. and H. A. Rogers for $30,000 personal damages.

The two men in question are the owners of the car in which the girl was riding with some companions at the time that the accident occurred. She will be crippled for life as part of the hip bone was removed.

CONTROL SAVED LIFE

Of Aviator Making Chicago-to-Detroit Cruise in Hydro-aeroplane

Kuskogen, Mich., July 11.—Glenn Martin's perfect control of his hydro-aeroplane in which he is making the Chicago-to-Detroit cruise, probably saved his life late this afternoon when the machine developed carbureter trouble and he was forced to make a quick descent into Lake Michigan.

Martin, with his passenger, Charles Day, was flying about 700 feet above the water when the air valve dropped from the carbureter. Martin volplaned to the surface of the lake, making a perfect landing about two and a half miles from the shore. In a few minutes he succeeded in starting his engine again and reached the shore under his own power.

He declared his machine was not damaged, and that he will resume his journey toward Charlevoix tomorrow morning.

Beckwith Havens and Roy Francis, who reached Pentwater this afternoon, will remain there during the night, a lowering barometer causing them to defer their departure until tomorrow morning.

FRATERNITY MEETING ENDS

Pi Kappa Phi Convention Closed Yesterday Afternoon With Election of New Officers—An Enjoyable Affair.

The last business meeting of the sixth annual convention of the Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity, which has been in session at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, for the last two days, was held yesterday afternoon when officers for the new year were elected. The place for holding the next meeting was left open. Last night the fraters had a most enjoyable smoker at the hotel.

The following were elected as officers to serve until the next meeting:

Grand President—J. D. Carroll, Columbia, S. C.

Grand Vice President—Dave P. Hardy, Berkeley, Cal.

Grand Secretary—E. R. W. Gunn, Oxford, Miss.

Grand Treasurer—W. H. Monckton, Jr., Columbia, S. C.

Grand Historian—Simon Fogarty, Jr., Charleston, S. C.

Grand Journalist—John D. Hamer, Spartanburg, S. C.

Grand Chaplain—A. H. Blanton, Farmville, Va.

Grand Custodian—J. F. Robinson, Easley, S. C.

Grand Councillor—John H. Hydrick, Orangeburg, S. C.

Grand Council—W. M. Shaw, Jr., Wilmington; Mr. J. T. Monroe, Marion, S. C.; Mr. Chester H. Prouty, Betteravia, Cal.

Mr. Herbert Langford, of Columbia, S. C., was elected as business manager of The Star and Lamp, the official organ of the fraternity, published at Charleston, S. C.

There were two business sessions yesterday after which the fraters went on a boat ride which furnished many thrills as the wind blew strongly, and made some of them long for terra firma with all their souls. Last night an informal smoker was given at the Seashore Hotel and the boys told stories of the days that are gone when they were college boys without a care and without a sorrow. They forgot the fears of the afternoon as they recalled the humorous incidents of their college careers.

All the Chapters were represented at the convention and glowing reports were brought concerning the progress of the affairs pertaining to the fraternity. All pledged themselves to go to work with renewed zeal to advance its interests and to encourage its growth, and it is expected that when the fraters gather around the banquet board at San Francisco in 1915 that its membership will be many times its present number.

While at Wrightsville the fraters enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Messrs. W. M. Shaw, Jr., and Mack Sellars had made full and complete preparations for their entertainment and every moment of the time during the two days has been full of pleasure for the wearers of the white and gold. A more jolly and wholesouled set of fellows would be hard to find.

MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT

Sheriff Cowan Has Warrants Issued for Himself and Deputies for Carrying Concealed Weapons As Test

In order to settle the question of when a county officer has the right to carry a concealed weapon and when he has not Sheriff Cowan yesterday had warrants made out charging himself and Deputy Sheriffs Reynolds and Kelly with carrying concealed weapons. Constable Davis was also included in the number. These cases are the result of a recent decision of the Recorder that an officer has not the right to carry a pistol concealed when he is off duty.

Sheriff Cowan wants to know when he is on duty and when he is not. The law does not specify the number of hours that he is to be on duty, and it is generally understood that the sheriff and his deputies should be ready at all times to answer calls. At any rate they frequently have to make arrests when the other people are asleep, and are somewhat in the same status as doctors who are supposed to be ready to answer calls day or night.

A strict construction of the Recorder's decision would limit the right of the county officers to carry pistols to the actual time that they have in their possession papers to be served.

The warrants were made out before Justice Harriss. Examination in his court was waived and the matter will come up in the Recorder's court this morning. No matter which way he decides the matter it is expected to take it on to the Superior Court and from there to the Supreme Court in order to have a definite decision about the matter from the highest court in the State.

Sheriff Cowan conferred with several prominent members of the local bar and they told him that the question had never been passed upon by the Supreme Court. It is for the purpose of getting an opinion from the higher tribunal that the cases have been brought.

PERJURY IS CHARGED

B. F. Hawkins Brings Charge Against Officer Frank George

Charging Officer Frank George with committing perjury on the witness stand Thursday morning in the Recorder's court, B. F. Hawkins, who was acquitted of a charge of violating the prohibition law, yesterday had a warrant issued before Justice Harriss, and the matter will come up before Justice Harriss this morning at 11 o'clock. Immediately after the warrant was served on him, Officer George swore out a warrant charging Hawkins with committing perjury on the witness stand on the same day and in the same case. This warrant will probably be served this morning.

Hawkins alleges in the warrant issued that Officer George testified before the Recorder that Hawkins ran a disorderly house, permitting drunken men to assemble there, and that he had received frequent complaints concerning same, and that Officer George in thus testifying swore falsely.

The charges that Officer George brings against Hawkins is that he swore falsely before the Recorder when he denied having received certain shipments of whiskey which it is alleged that records show he did receive.

MONTHLY MEETING VETERANS

Reports From Gettysburg Celebration —Business Matters

The regular monthly meeting of Cape Fear Camp, Confederate Veterans, was held last night at the W. L. I. armory. There was a good attendance, and after the regular business there were reports from the veterans who attended the Gettysburg celebration. The descriptions of the battlefield and the telling of incidents showing the kindness of the Yankees were especially interesting to the veterans.

Adjutant L. Leon was instructed to present the thanks of the camp to the Daughters of the Confederacy and to the Children's Chapter for their kind donation of tickets to two of the veterans who attended the Gettysburg celebration. A letter from Mrs. Stonewall Jackson thanking the camp for the presentation of flowers by Adjutant Leon in behalf of the camp was also read. At their last meeting it was voted that, since the veterans could not tender Mrs. Jackson a reception as they had originally planned, the adjutant give Mrs. Jackson a wreath of flowers in token of their respect and esteem for her.

Simons, the contractor, has the contract for the erection of these buildings, and the permits were issued through him.

The Recorder's Court.

There was one case before the Recorder yesterday, this being that of June Matthews, a negro preacher, who was charged with disorderly conduct on the streets. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. The case against Jake Richardson, colored, charged with violating the prohibition law, was continued until today because of the inability of the State to get its witnesses into court.

BEACH HOTELS ARE CROWDED

Both Oceanic and Seashore Filled With Guests—Many Arrivals From Georgia—Week-end Guests Today

Wrightsville Beach—the boozeless resort—is again crowded with visitors and yesterday The Oceanic and Seashore hotels for the first time this season had to turn away guests, for with the guests already in the hotels and those expected to arrive today both places are filled to their capacity. The hotel managers are now more hopeful, naturally, than they have been at any time this season and they feel that the season will yet turn out to be as good as the average at resort.

This in spite of the fact that the resort is without beer or any other strong beverages. And the fact that the beach is "dry" must be well known, too, by this time. So the crowds are attracted by advantages of the resort itself. Many week-end arrivals are expected today and probably the boarding houses, all of them, will be crowded over Sunday.

Five Pullman cars attached to the regular Seaboard Air Line train arriving yesterday at noon brought a large crowd from Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala., and other cities in these two States. Throughout the week there have been daily arrivals, and the large delegation yesterday served to fill the hotels and cottages to overflowing. Most of the new arrivals will remain for ten days or two weeks.

Reservations are already being made for arrivals next Friday, and the indications are that the beach will be crowded with people during the remainder of the Summer. By far the larger number are from Atlanta, Ga., and Wrightsville almost seems like a Georgia colony with the large number that have come from other points in Georgia, especially Athens and Augusta.

EXTRA STEAMER TO BEACH.

Evening Boat During Boys' Brigade Encampment Next Week.

On account of the annual encampment of the Boys' Brigade at Carolina Beach next week, Capt. John W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, has decided to do the handsome thing by the boys of the command and their friends. Beginning Monday and continuing during the encampment the steamer Wilmington will make an extra trip to the beach each evening, at 7:30 P. M., leaving the city and returning will leave the beach at 10:30 P. M. The Brigade encampment will add not a little bit to the attractions at Carolina Beach, and the social life there next week will be at its flood tide, so it is certain that the daily trips of the steamer Wilmington will carry large crowds each and every day.

SUPERIOR COURT MONDAY

Special Term of Two Weeks With Judge George Rountree Presiding—Heavy Docket to Engage His Attention.

The special term of Superior Court recently ordered by Governor Craig upon request of the Board of County Commissioners will convene Monday morning with Judge George Rountree, of Wilmington, presiding. This will be Judge Rountree's first term of court, his appointment to the bench by Governor Craig having become effective July 1st. The term is for two weeks.

There are 80 cases on the docket, the largest number since the campaign against the "blind tigers" last year. The new judge will certainly be given a variety of cases for his consideration—murder, arson, violation of prohibition law, assault with deadly weapon, carrying concealed weapons, embezzlement, usury, gambling, disorderly houses, abandonment and others.

The most important case is the one in which J. C. Holly, who was proprietor of the old Rock Springs Hotel, is charged with arson, it being alleged that he started the fire that burned the hotel three years ago. The case will be reached the latter part of next week or early in the second week. It is most likely that it will be called on Monday morning of the second week of the term. Holly was tried three times on the charge of murder by poisoning of Edward Cromwell, his ward, who lost his life in the Rock Springs Hotel fire. He was convicted at the first trial, the second resulted in a mistrial, and the third, in Pender county, resulted in acquittal. He has since been held in jail here on the arson charge. C. D. Weeks and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., represent the defendant, having been appointed by the court.

There are on the docket 12 cases in which violation of the prohibition law is charged. Ten of these are appeals from the Recorder's court. One, Albert Steljes, is a nolo contendere. John Davis, colored, was arrested a few days ago on a capias from Superior Court, having escaped the officers for several months.

There are three negroes awaiting trial on charge of murder. Rachael Pollock is to be tried for the murder of another colored woman, May King, some two years ago. Chas. Brown, alias "Black Cat", and John Galloway are to answer to the charge of killing a negro by the name of Blount, whose lifeless body was found near the railroad tracks at Nobles' Landing, just east of the city, one morning some months ago. Blount's throat was cut from ear to ear. The officers in working up the case proceeded upon the theory that the killing came as the result of a dispute following an all-night at gambling in the woods nearby.

Among the other cases are several in which usury is charged. These are of right much importance. Pool room proprietors are to be tried on a charge of gambling, the cases having been continued from the last term of court. The charge against the pool room owners is based on the assertion that persons have bet on the outcome of pool games in these places.

H. L. Lyon, Esq., of Whiteville, the new solicitor of this district, was here Thursday to look over the docket and get everything in readiness for court Monday. Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., county solicitor, appears with the State solicitor whenever requested to do so by the latter.

JUMPED FROM TRAIN.

Unknown Negro Wanted for Shooting Man at Bolton Thursday.

An unknown negro, who is wanted at Bolton for shooting a white man there, made his escape by jumping from train No. 50 as it was coming into Wilmington Thursday night. At midnight Thursday night a telegram was received by Chief of Police Williams from Mr. A. T. Clark, of Bolton, stating that a tall yellow negro, with clean shaven head, was on board the train and that he had shot a white man at Bolton Thursday.

Officer W. R. Applebury was sent to the station to meet the train, but when it came in the conductor informed him that the negro had jumped off the train as it was passing the space intervening between the Navassa and Hilton bridges. When the conductor received a message stating that the negro was on board he began a search for him and finally found him on the part known as the blind baggage.

He told the negro that he was under arrest and ordered him to come inside the train. Instead of doing so the negro said that he was going to get off and that if the conductor did not want to have trouble he had better not interfere. Not caring to have himself involved in a scrap with danger of falling between the cars, the conductor let him go.

Officer Applebury went over to the Hilton bridge to investigate and was informed by the bridge tender at Hilton that the negro had just crossed the bridge. He made a diligent search for him but without success. The negro was described as being a young, tall, yellow negro, with head shaven, wearing no coat and with shirt sleeves cut off at the elbow.

A message from Bolton yesterday afternoon stated that the negro shot a white man named Miller from Charleston, S. C. It is said that Miller, who is a stranger at Bolton, and the negro, together with several others, were engaged in playing a game of cards when Miller and the negro had a dispute. Miller was shot through the head and was still living late yesterday afternoon, though it was not expected that he would live.

The police department is making a close search for the negro and have several clues, but had not located him at a late hour last night.

Sent to the Recorder.

Frank Harper, Jr., colored, appeared before Justice Bornemann yesterday, and submitted to assaulting Tom Dosher Thursday with a deadly weapon. After hearing the evidence Justice Bornemann sent the case to the Recorder and it will be tried this morning. Harper gave bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance. He stated that Dosher slapped him in the face and he returned the compliment by hitting him with a drinking glass.

Negro Killed from Ambush

Word was received here yesterday that Henry Moore, colored, who lived near Currie, was shot from ambush and killed Tuesday afternoon while returning to his home from a saw mill where he was employed. He was accompanied by a small colored boy, who says that three shots were fired in quick succession and came from the direction of a clump of trees. He did not see any one. Moore died instantly. It is reported that an anonymous note was placed under his door three days before the murder giving him a certain length of time in which to leave the community, or he would be killed. FRUIT AND PRODUCE REVIEW

North Carolina Cantaloupes Have Begun to Move—Prices, Etc.

The Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal this week reviews the fruit and produce situation, as follows:

"Scanning the situation in fruit and produce trade circles the country over we find very little difference in the conditions and prices as ruling at this time from those obtaining ten days ago.

"Strawberries, dewberries, huckleberries, raspberries, cherries, etc., are holding their own and commanding fair prices under the influence of more or less restricted receipts on the various markets.

"Peaches, plums, pears and the like are still scarce, and by reason of a short crop are commanding fancy prices, and especially is this true with reference to anything like fancy stock. For these articles the market everywhere is short and bids fair to continue so during the balance of the season.

"Georgia is today the theatre of activities in this particular fruit and the present month will witness the movement of the famous Elbertas, which enjoy a reputation the wide world over. Cantaloupes and watermelons have been enjoying a phenomenal run in the shape of high prices until the close of last week, when excessive receipts from Florida, Georgia and elsewhere put the cantaloupe and melon market on the toboggan. Prices at this time are therefore 25 per cent. off in comparison with the figures of ten days ago. Florida is about cleaned up on cantaloupes and watermelons, while Georgia is in the zenith of her glory, and will be followed this week and next by South Carolina, then North Carolina, with Virginia a close second in the week following.

"North Carolina cantaloupes began to roll this week, and will be at the high water mark of movement about the 20th. By that time it is to be hoped that prices will have regained some of the lost ground sustained during the past week.

"Irish potatoes have been the wet blanket for everybody, the crop yield being in many respects greater than was predicted some weeks ago, while prices have ruled uniformly low, so low, in fact, that it no longer pays to harvest and ship the crop. Potatoes are moving, however, in heavy volume out of North Carolina and Virginia, at this time, although many growers have ceased to dig and are leaving their potatoes in the ground until prices show some improvement.

"Quotations show that the market rules around $1.00 to $1.25 at shipping stations for fancy stock and lower prices for seconds and culls, while the figures at Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Pittsburg and elsewhere show the figures to be around $1.50 to $1.75 and $2.00 per barrel. Even at these starvation figures the market is weak, with little if any evidence of improvement in the near future. Old potatoes are equally depressed.

"Beans, beets, cukes, green corn and other things are about normal in price, generally speaking, although they are experiencing days of depression here and there. There are many things yet to move out, and shipments out of this territory will continue to go forward for some time to come, to be followed in the Fall by the Autumn crops."

Yesterday afternoon's Charlotte Chronicle: "Col. and Mrs. A. L. Smith left this morning for Wrightsville Beach, where they will remain ten days as the guests of the Seashore Hotel.——Misses Hawease McCausland and Marie Lentz will leave this afternoon for Wrightsville Beach, where they will spend some time. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. H. A. Gattis, of Atlanta, Ga., who will meet them in Wilmington."

Yesterday afternoon's Charlotte News: "Miss Mary Sims leaves this afternoon for Wrightsville Beach to spend several days.——Mr. J. A. Russell and daughter, Miss Lila Russell, and Mrs. Lloyd Ranson and Master Russell Ranson, are spending several weeks at Wrightsville Beach."

REMARKABLE RECORD.

Flesh-Forming Food That Succeeds Nearly Every Time.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Wilmington as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated, and fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. Statistics show that out of every one hundred people who commence the use of Samose, 98 will find a full gain in weight and restoration of health and strength.

Anyone who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and take home a box of Samose. If the treatment does not give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh and restore strength and health, they will return the money without any questions.

ODD LAPSES OF MIND

SCHOLARS AND OTHERS NOTED FOR ECCENTRICITY.

Forgetfulness One of the "Strong Points" of Many Able and Accomplished Men—Sometimes the Result of Self-Hypnotism.

Some years ago I had to speak at a Work." "Have you any fads?" inquired my host. "The last parson we had here refused to sleep in a bed. When every one had retired to rest the whole house was roused by a hammering on the wall of our visitor's bedroom. Come and see!"

I entered the bedroom.

"See those excavations?" He pointed out two large holes in the wall, where the paper had been torn away and the plaster disturbed. "Well, the parson we had here last hammered two huge hooked nails into those walls to support a hammock."

I had the qualified pleasure of meeting this eccentric at dinner some years after. "Can I serve you some soup?" inquired our hostess. "Never take soup," was the reply. Then, later: "You will take some fish?" The cleric simply shook his head. So he declined dish after dish.

"But what will you have?" inquired the now desperate hostess.

"I should like five raisins, one apple, a few nuts and some oil."

By this time every one was uncomfortable. A whisper went around that there were no raisins in the house. I suggested that he should go on with the oil and the apple. His face assumed a look of eloquent resignation. The next moment he sprang to his feet and rushed from the room.

The intelligent under-footman had brought in bicycle oil!

A delightful old clergyman, professor of Greek at my own university, had a habit of forgetting to put on his clothes. Once he walked into college chapel in an old-fashioned nightshirt. It was a misty morning early in February. An undergraduate was reading the first lesson, when this silent, ghost-like figure moved along in the him dawn which crept in through the stained-glass windows. One of the dons took his arm and led him out.

On another occasion it was his turn to preach in the cathedral. Instead of stepping into the pulpit, he walked out altogether, and things came to a standstill.

Another old college don was a dreamer. One day he met me in the town. "My boy," he said, "I came out to go somewhere, but it's gone—gone! Can you tell me where I meant to go? I suggested that he should go back to his college. What is more, I saw him safely there.

Later in the evening he sent for me. There was the light of a great discovery in his eyes. "My boy," he said, "it has all come back to me in a flash. I never meant to go anywhere at all. I wanted to write a letter, and I must have missed my way to my library. You will have a glass of wine?" But he forgot to ring the bell. Presently he said: "Do have some more. Now, what have I done with the decanter?"

Many men's eccentricities are the result of self-hypnotism. I remember once seeing a well-known clergyman walking calmly along during a downpour of rain, holding his walking stick up, under the impression it was an umbrella.

Absentmindedness is responsible for much amusement. An elderly clergyman, on arrival in Rome, was positive that he had lost some of his luggage, and gave notice at the office; but he was unable to say what the package was like, or even what it was.

It transpired, in the course of next day, that it was his wife he had lost. I shall not forget the interview between husband and wife.—Exchange

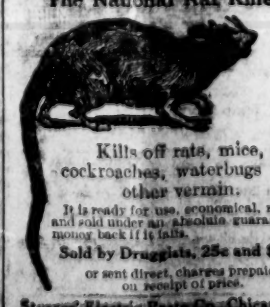

Wireless Sketches In Warfare.

Surprising results are being obtained by means of the new invention of an Italian youth, Francesco di Bernocchi, called the wireless iconograph, which has recently been tested between Milan and Turin. His apparatus is far in advance of anything of the kind yet recorded. Besides ordinary messages, it also transmits autographs, shorthand characters and all sorts of designs. So simple is the arrangement that the tranamittier and receiver of this instrument may be applied with ease to any ordinary wireless telegraph plant. General Spingardi, the Italian minister of war, is so much impressed by the enormous advantages of the wireless iconograph for transmitting orders and conveying sketches in time of war with the utmost secrecy that steps were immediately taken to secure for the Italian government exclusive possession of the patent.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience—Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world.

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

QUALITY

of material is an important essential in the building of a house or your body. It is equally essential in the construction of teeth that will be strong and able to resist the severe storms of decay that will sweep over them. Teeth that are built of flimsy material will easily yield to its enemies. The little extra effort you make to have them built of the best material, will be worth more than money to you in later years. A reliable dentist will give you the best advice as to the kind of food that will build stronger teeth. One reason patients show the appreciation of my advice—they are glad to return when an operation is needed and have their teeth trusted to my care.

EASIER RULING IN COTTON

Favorable Crop Reports, High Temperatures in Southwest and Restriction of the Boll Weevil Cause Conditions

New York, July 11.—Favorable private crop reports from several sources including claims that high temperatures in the southwest were likely to result in a full August movement and restrict the spread of boll weevil appeared responsible for the easier ruling of the cotton market during today's trading.

Owing to the holidays there were no cables from Liverpool, and general business remained quiet but the circulation on a few July notices caused some near month liquidation, and there was some scattered Southern selling of new crop deliveries which was supposed to be partly in the way of hedging prospective yields.

There appeared to be very few orders around the ring at the start but after opening three points higher to three points lower, the market gradually weakened under releasing, and offerings became heavier following reports that a prominent Memphis authority made the condition of the crop 82.5 per cent, comparing with 81.3 toward the end of June. Near months led the decline selling about 12 points net lower and the new crop showed a net loss of from 8 to 10 points during the middle of the day. Covering checked the decline in the late trading and caused slight rallies with the close steady at a loss of from 3 ot 10 points for the day. Southwestern advices claim that picking will be general in Southern Texas by the end of next week and while today's detailed reports showed a continuation of very hot weather in Texas, they failed to create any fresh buying of consequence. Leading trade interests were credited with buying August and October on the decline and a further reduction in the local stock of certificated cotton probably restricted more general selling on favorable crop advices and a pessimistic view of the trade outlook.

No Decided Tendency Has Been Shown in the Market During the Past Week Owing to Confusion of Uncertainties.

New York, July 11.—The cotton market has shown no decided tendency during the past week. Sentiment has doubtless been confused by political uncertainties, such as the continued hostilities in the Balkans, and the fear of anti-futures legislation in the country, while crop accounts have been conflicting, and the somewhat less favorable character of trade reports have been offset to some extent by the strengthening of the old crop situation.

Early in the week there appeared to be a tendency to sell the market on the failure of the July condition report to create any fresh interest on the long side, and a feeling that the crop was improving but moderate declines were followed by covering on reports of dry, hot weather in the Southwest. Demand failed to become general on advances which met scattered selling from Southern sources and toward the end of the week favorable private reports served to relieve apprehensions as to the immediate progress of the crop. A favorable breaking of the Indian monsoon is considered a satisfactory feature from a Lancashire trade standpoint, but recent advices from Europe claim that continental spinners are meeting very little forward demand for their goods owing to unsettled conditions in financial and general trade circles, and while trade interests have been moderate buying on declines, the demand from that source has not been active enough to create any general bullish sentiment.

Advices from the Southwest indicate that the hot weather is restricting the spread of the boll weevil, and at the same time hastening maturity. Houston received the first bale of new crop cotton this week, and reports from Austin claim that picking in South Texas will be general by the end of next week. Bearishly disposed operators, however, are said to be rendered cautious by continued reduction in stock and talk around the ring has suggested a more or less general tendency to await developments or a nearer view of the crop outturn.

Total Stock Sales 64,400 Shares—Fewest Number Since 1896—The Money Is Turning to Interior

New York, July 11.—It is necessary to go back over a long stretch of years to find another day as dull as today in the stock market. The total transactions was 64,400 shares, the smallest amount traded in on any full day since May 27th, 1896.

tock market operators spent the day waiting for something to happen. Apparently the forces which have been determining the course of speculation and price movements have spent themselves, leaving the market at a standstill. With tariff and currency legislation, the possibility of a strike on the Eastern railroads and the Balkan war hanging over the market, speculators are not inclined to take on new lines for either account and as the day was barren of news upon which to base operations, trading came almost to a halt.

The drift of prices was downward, but bear traders made no attempt to press trading and in most cases losses were limited to fractions. Southern Pacific sold off more easily than the rest of the list. Lower prices of copper metal in London owing to poor trade conditions arisng from the Balkan disturbances found reflection here in the heaviness of copper stocks, particularly smelting. New York Central sold early in the day at 95 1-4, a new low record for the year, and Chesapeake & Ohio at 51 1-8, also reached a new low point. Another cash loss by the banks was forecast by the week's known movements of currency. A decline of $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 was indicated.

In addition to the loss of $5,000,000 gold shipped abroad the interior movement was less favorable to New York. Had it not been for $1,000,000 gold received from Canada this week, the banks would have shown a loss on direct operations with the interior. Although it is unusually early for currency to be moving into the interior, a turn in the movement was apparent this week after a long succession of gains.

Compared with previous weeks, the inflow was decidedly smaller, while the direct express shipments were about twice as large as last week.

Bonds were affected slightly by the sagging of stocks. Total sales, par value $1,612,000. United States 4s registered declined 1-4 and the 2s registered and Panama 3s on call. Total stock sales 64,400 shares including, American Tobacco, 100; C. & O., 1,800; Lehigh Valley, 900; N. & W., 200; S. A. L., preferred, 200; Southern Railway, 100; United States Steel, 6,600.

DAVID'S

The first "4th of July" celebration /

IN those days they celebrated the country's independence of foreign rule; they had to fight for it, but they got it. In these days there's a different sort of independence to be gained; and you ought to help win it.

Independence from fraud in merchandise is one of the things we 're trying for; the elimination of the cheap stuff that masquerades as quality. It appears in clothing in the form of cotton mixed fabrics, in "sloppy" tailoring, in flashy, undignified styles.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes are a declaration of independence; they're all-wool, the best tailoring, the best style; they give the wearer independence of thought; and they save him from paying too much for good clothes.

That's the way we sell them; at $18, $20, $25, and more; the best values you ever saw at $25.

WANT TO HEAR MORE OF MULHALL STORY

the association, and the woolen industry of the country." It went on to say that a draft for $5,000 was inclosed, and concluded "this is a voluntary and cheerful expression of their appreciation of your work, and of the high regard in which you are held."

"I think it can be safely said," declared Whitman, that the National Association of Wool Manufacturers has never directly or indirectly contributed one cent for political purposes and never contributed any money in an improper way to secure legislation."

R. L. Bowen, of Paris, Texas, chairman of the executive committee of the Northeast Texas District Farmers' Union, was asked about a meeting of men prominent in the National Farmers' Union at New Orleans in April.

Bowen said he was chairman of the committee of the National organization to secure a 'greater consumption of cotton," and had called the meeting under authority of the National organization, though he paid the expenses of the men who attended out of his own pocket.

He expected to be reimbursed, in part, at least. He denied that the meeting had been called ostensibly in the interests of cotton producers, but really to show the opposition of the union to the sugar schedule of the Underwood bill. The witness denied he had ever been a lobbyist in Texas or elsewhere.

The Night Session

Mulhall took the stand tonight and subscribed to the oath with a smile on his face. In answer to questions by Senator Reed designated by Chairman Overman to examine the witness, he said he was born in 1850, and had lived in Baltimore more than 13 years. He said before he went with the National Association of Manufacturers he was principally "in politics" and was connected with the Republican National committee.

"I refused a bribe of $5,000 and a life position in the naval service in 1892," said Mulhall. "That year I had charge of the Republican campaign in Albany, and Rensselaer counties, New York. Previous to that I had charge of William McKinley's gubernatorial campaign in Ohio."

The witness said he first became interested in the National Association of Manufacturers in 1902 when he met Marshall Cushing, its secretary, in Washington Hotel.

Senator Reed asked him about his relations with labor. He said the late Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, sent him to confer with John Mitchell during the anthracite strike in the Pennsylvania fields in 1902 "to get the inside story."

A letter of March 18th, 1902, from Mulhall to Mitchell was read. It declared that the leaders of the Republican organization could do more for the miners' union "than any arbitration board in existence."

A letter dated May 17th, 1902, from Mulhall to Mitchell, told of a conference between Mulhall and Governor Stone, at which Stone expressed sympathy with the miners.

"I think you could make a grand stroke," the letter said, in suggesting the calling of a strike, "if you would meet Governor Stone and make him a 'friend.' He will be of great assistance to you in the event of an anthracite strike."

A letter of August, 1900, from Carroll Downs, who Mulhall said was secretary to the late McComas, of Maryland, was put in the record by Reed. It related to the employment of two men in the Treasury Department in Washington. Mulhall said he enjoyed close political relations with Senator McComas, and that the men for whom the employment was secured were officers of the miners' union in Baltimore.

Edward Booth, one of the men who was to get a Washington job later wrote to Mulhall about the work being done to keep up the Workmen's Protective Association. "We do not propose to do anything for the Republican party at all this Fall unless they do more for us," he wrote.

At this time Mulhall said, Marshall Cushing was secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers. Speaking of letters from Cushing Senator Reed found one without a signature and wanted to know if the National Association of Manufacturers' secretary wrote unsigned letters.

"Always," said Mulhall.

Senator Reed continued picking out letters at random for the purpose of getting them identified for the record. Among these was one from Marshall Cushing to John W. Yerkes, then commissioner of internal revenue, urging him to retain Mulhall as deputy collector of customs at Baltimore. A note on the top of this letter stated that it was "absolutely confidential", "as it would be fatal if Senator McComas knew I was doing this."

Asked by Senator Reed why this would be fatal, Mulhall said: "Because the National Association of Manufacturers was fighting McComas."

Mulhall declared that Cushing had agreed with him to aid and build up the Working Men's Protective Association, which Mulhall virtually controlled. It had run down to about 500 members and with Cushing's aid Mulhall said, it was worked up to 1,200 members.

For this Cushing, as secretary of the National Manufacturers' Association, frequently sent Mulhall money. "He sent me checks, usually $100 at a time, to be used in hall rent and keeping up the organization," said Mulhall. "Occosionally he sent me $40 checks which were for my own expenses."

During this time Mulhall said Cushing was opposed to McComas because of the latter's activity on behalf of labor legislation and Cushing was also working through McComas' secretary, M. Carroll Downs. Mulhall said his principal work for Cushing was to carry word to Senator McComas that Maryland was going against him and to "harrass him along that line," but McComas seemed to think the labor people were with him.

Mulhall identified a letter from Baltimore Republicans to McComas urging him to drop the eight-hour bill, stating that the working men were opposed to it because it was prompting the manufacturers to organize and would result in lowering wages and injuring labor.

"Hundreds of such letters went to McComas", said Mulhall.

"How did they happen to be written?" asked Senator Cummins.

"Well, just about that time," Mulhall answered, "the workingmen's Protective Association had passed resolutions condemning the eight-hour bill and I guess I was largely responsible in bringing that about. After the resolutions passed, these letters went to McComas."

The witness told about the distribution of "bundles" of letters in Maryland, sent by Cushing from New York, protesting against the eight-hour bill, that McComas was backing. He said he sent them to business men in Baltimore.

MIXING COTTON IN BALES.

English Protest Against Various Staple Cottons in the Same Bale.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—The Manchester (Eng.) Cotton Association, Ltd., following the Congress of American and European Cotton Exchanges and Associations, held in Liverpool June 2nd and 3rd, has protested to the Secretary of Agriculture against the practice of certain ginners of mixing various staple cottons in the same bale. In the course of this protest, in which the other associations are to join, the Manchester organization, through its president, states:

"You will appreciate the serious consequences that this growing practice must have upon the quality of the American cotton crop, thereby effectually reducing its monetary value."

They then urge the Department of Agriculture to make representation to the cotton exchanges of the South, asking them to inform the ginners of the necessity for keeping different seed cottons of various staples separate, and not to gin different qualities together.

Following the receipt of this letter, the Department of Agriculture took the matter up through the office of co-operative cotton handling and marketing. The fault, it seems, lies largely with the ginner, and results from the fact that he is unwilling to take the time after ginning one kind of cotton, to clean out the ginning machines before he introduces another staple. As a result, the first layer or part packed will contain some of the cotton previously ginned. If the cotton being ginned is long stapled, the mixture of short cotton in this first plate or layer will lessen the value of the bale from $1.50 to $4, even though there be only about 20 pounds of cotton affected. The reason for this is that the cotton merchants sample from each side of the bale, and rate it by the worst side, so that such a bale would be rated "mixed", whereas 480 pounds of it might be long staple, and only the first plate or layer of about 10 or 20 pounds, of mixed staple. Even if the second run of cotton is short staple, it loses in value by having its first layer mixed with any other kind of cotton.

The department urges particularly upon cotton growers in the country to limit their cotton growing to one variety, or else to provide themselves with seed cotton storage houses in which cotton of a single staple is stored. Where storage houses are used, the cotton producer can take a large quantity at one time to the gin and be certain that it will not be mixed wih previous runs. Where, however, he takes only a small quantity of cotton at a time, all these bales may have a first layer of mixed cotton. It also urges upon cotton producers that if they cannot provide themselves with seed storage houses and gin large quantities at a time, to insist that the ginners clean out the ginning machine and take the old roll of previous cotton out before ginning new cotton. This would probably cost the ginner a loss of time of about $10 a day, but where frequent changes in cotton are run, the losses to the producer may well amount to $50 or more a day. The presence of a mixed first layer in cotton bales is found particularly serious in times when cotton is plentiful. When cotton is scarce, cotton merchants are not so particular; but when cotton is plentiful, they use the presence of a mixed layer as a weapon to lower the price paid for the entire bale. The loss to the producer in this way is very heavy.

"THEY SAY," AND "HAVE YOU HEARD?"

(Pictorial Review.)

"They say. "Have you heard?" Two well known phrases! Five short words! But they have done more damage than all the rest of the dictionary rolled together! They have wrecked homes and broken hearts. They have ruined promising careers and thrown business firms into bankruptcy. They have disrupted churches and plunged old friends into bitter legal fights. They have driven men to drink and women to insanity. They have robbed innocent children of their parents and sent young girls, broken hearted and unwedded to their graves. They have turned merely foolish girls into wicked ones, and they have sent innocent men to prison. And they belong particularly to the vocabulary of women. They are peculiarly the weapons of the so-called gentler sex.

"Marshal Briggs arrested Jim Jones for beating his wife," remarged a man to the circle of loungers in the post office. And it is so. Jim Jones is tried and fined in open court. This is not gossip. It is a plain, brutal statement of fact.

"Have you heard, that Mrs. Blank has left her husband?" inquires Mrs. Meddlesome, at the Sewing Circle. "They say he treats her something awful. Last night coming home from prayer meeting my Mary heard her carrying on fearfully and this morning I saw her, bag in hand hurrying for the 7:40 train. They say she's gone back to her folks."

And so Tom Blank, silent, perhaps even surly, but adored by his understanding wife, acquires a reputation for cruelty when in reality Mrs. Blank was carrying on" over a telegram announcing the death of her favorite sister. In her grief she had forgotten to announce to her curious neighbors that she was going home to the funeral.

Had the meddlesome and imaginative mother or Mary, the eavesdropper, been pinned down to facts, she must have admitted that no one had really heard of Mrs. Blank's leaving her husband and that no one had said that he treated his wife illy. The entire story was built on the imagination and sensational tastes of a gossip-monger. Innocent, if surly, Mr. Blank wonders why his neighbors look at him coldly in his hour of loneliness. When Mrs. Blank returns she must add to the burden of her grief that of denying an ugly story about her home life.

All this does not mean that men are devoid of curiosity or malice, only that they have a more direct and safer way of justifying both. They go after facts. Men do gossip, but they repeat what they know. Women take a chance on repeating the little they have seen, plus the much they have heard, and color the result with a thick application of imagination. Men rarely use the phrase, "They say."

Rather it is "Brown told me." And then Brown is held responsible for the rumor or the statement. Men may be curious about the doings of their neighbors or what goes on in the office and stores of their competitors, but they also have a wholesome respect for scandal and libel laws, and a simple and practical way of demanding facts concerning current stories.

The story which is built on facts, or the bit of gossip which is cruel but true, will not work on injustice, nor injure the innocent. But the tale prefacted by the little parase "They say" is reasonably sure to drag some guiltless party through the mire of scandal and suffering.

STORM IN PITT COUNTY.

Damage to Crops and Other Property. Summer School Crowded.

Greenville, N. C., July 11.—A cyclonic storm, accompanied by hail, passed through the southeastern part of the county. Its path was narrow and the damage was not great. The greatest damage was about Pactatus, where trees were blown down, chimneys toppled over, and buildings damaged. About Mr. R. R. Fleming's mill the damage ran up into the hundreds of dollars. Hail storms have visited several sections of the county this Summer, and in some places did much damage to crops.

The bond election for roads is breeding a warm campaign. Both sides are already claiming it. It is for 40,000, 40 year bonds for road improvement in Greenville township.

Tobacco curing is in full blast. The acreage is perhaps a little greater than last year, but opinion differs as to the value of the crop. It is ripening fast this dry weather. Greenville expects to sell more than ever the coming season. Some large warehouses, two being new ones, and two old ones enlarged, with several buyers' plants, the Imperial Company having greatly enlarged, makes Greenville better than ever prepared to handle a large crop. Good prices are expected.

Ground has been broken for the erection of the oil mill which is expected to be ready for this season's crop of seed.

The attendance at the Summer training school is very large. The dormitories are all crowded and the town full of boarders. Work on the building of addition to the dormitories and other buildings is expected to begin soon.

WILSON TO MEET TRAINMEN

Conference Monday Between Railroaders and President

New York, July 11.—It was announced tonight on behalf of the trainmen and conductors who are threatening a strike against the Eastern railroads that they will be represented at the meeting with President Wilson and Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor, at the White House, Monday, called to consider the Newlands bill to provide an amendment to the Erdman act to increase the number of arbitrators from two to six.

Secretary Wilson's Statement

Washington, July 11.—Regarding the meeting at the White House scheduled for Monday between President Wilson, railway officials and representatives of the employes' union, Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor, today made the following statement:

"I prefer not to say at this time who asked for the conference with the President. I can say, however, that the request was not made on the initiative of this department."

PRESIDENT EXPLORES

Takes Automobile Journey Over Unfrequented Mountain Road

Cornish, N. H., July 11.—President Wilson went exploring in his automobile today. He took an unfrequented road and his big car picked its way slowly and cautiously over a mountain ridge. The trip was made without mishap, and the view of the surrounding hills amply repaid the President for the bumping he got, as both he and Mrs. Wilson saw the Green Mountains from unusual vantage points.

On one occasion the President's machine came to a natural stop and moved off the road entirely into a front yard. Half of the road had just been covered with oil and the other half was blocked by a team. In order to avoid getting out of the machine, the President suggested that his car drive over a small knoll into a front yard near a farm house until the team had passed. It was this incident which led to a report that the President had plunged over an embankment, narrowrowly escaping injury.

WILSON COMMUTES SENTENCE.

Cuts Off Four Years of Milton A. Carlisle's Time.

Washington, July 11.—President Wilson today commuted to one year and a day the five-year sentence of Milton A. Carlisle, convicted at Greenville, S. C., October 26th, 1910, of misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of Newberry, S. C., of which he was formerly president. Carlisle, who is 73 years old, has not yet served any of his term and the President commuted the sentence with the privilege of reconsideration at any time it appeared that continued imprisonment would dangerously impair the prisoner's health.

HEALTH AND COMMON CARRIERS

Senator Overman Would Extend Authority of Health Service

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Senator Lee S. Overman, of North Carolina, has introduced a measure in the Senate which would give the public health service authority over common carriers insofar as it is necessary to enforce proper sanitation. The measure includes all kinds of common carriers.

CONVICTS SUPPORT FAMILIES

Plan to Have Them Do So While Working for State

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Senator O'Gorman yesterday introduced a bill to incorporate a commission to investigate the subject of convict labor and devise a plan for remedying existing conditions. The incorporators named are the representatives of bodies of organized labor, prominent women engaged in benevolent social work, and a number of well-known professors of economics.

The object of this commission is to consider uniform legislation to enable convicts to assist in the support of their families, while at the same time reimbursing the States for the cost of their maintenance, and to devise some plan whereby the product of convict labor can be made available without coming into unfair competition with free labor.

The Languedoc Canal

was the first large canal constructed in Europe, and was opened on May 19th, 1601. The digging of this canal was considered a gigantic undertaking, although it was a small affair compared with our great Panama canal.

This canal was 148 miles long and 6 1-2 feet deep. It cost $3,500,000 and required 15 years to build.

Did you ever think that digging a canal, shovelful by shovelful, is much like building a bank account, dollar by dollar, and while it seems slow work, yet in a few years wonders have been accomplished? A few cents a day or a few dollars a month regularly added to a bank account will provide in a very few years a fund of which one can be proud.
